

APPOINTMENT

(Paris – February 3, 2004) – Nathalie Drouaire has been appointed Director of Acquisitions, CANAL+ Group, in charge of all motion picture and television acquisitions (excluding French films) for Group channels. Reporting to Rodolphe Belmer, she replaces Evi Fullenbach, who has decided to leave the company.

Nathalie Drouaire, 38, comes to CANAL+ Group from the M6 Group, where she worked for 14 years in program acquisitions. After managing television drama acquisitions for four years, she was appointed Acquisitions Director in 1995 and Deputy Director of Programming - General Programming, in 2002. Prior to joining the M6 Group, she served as International Sales Director for a French documentary production and distribution firm. She is a graduate of the EPSCI business school (ESSEC Group) and has completed additional marketing and management studies in the United States.
