CANAL+ Group records 8 million subscriptions

Paris - December 9, 2003 - CANAL+ Group recorded today the 8 millionth subscriptions to its pay services in France and should end the year with a net increase in the subscriber portfolio of around 1 25,000. This performance confirms CANAL+ 's position as France's leading pay-TV provider and industry benchmark.

The premium channel will have nearly 4.9 million subscriptions at December 31. Strong increases in recruitments since September - with the highest recruiting scores in the past 15 years in November - will help offset cancelled or non-renewed subscriptions over the full year.

As expected, CANALSATELLITE's subscription base will rise to 2.7 million at year-end, from 2.5 million in 2002. NUMERICABLE has more than 400,000 subscribers for its TV offers (excluding antenna service).

The renewal of the program lineup, initiated in September, and recent commercial successes should help keep CANAL+ Group on a growth track in 2004.
