

January 28, 2010

DENIAL

Vivendi formally denies the totally unfounded information that appeared in Challenges (January 28, 2010 edition) relating to the class action in the United States. No offer of settlement has been made, and the amounts of compensation referred to are without any foundation.