ARTICLE 1: PURPOSE OF THE VIVENDI SHAREHOLDERS CLUB

The purpose of the Vivendi Shareholders Club is to promote communications and information-sharing with individual shareholders.

To achieve this, the Club offers specific services to its members, such as the possibility of attending events connected with its activities.

Benefits for members of the Vivendi Shareholders Club include receiving the Shareholders newsletter, the Activity and Sustainable Development Report and practical documents on managing one’s shares, a dedicated mailbox on the website (www.vivendi.com), and invitations to events (information-sharing meetings, ‘Thursday is Vivendi Day’ thematic meetings, training sessions at the Ecole de la Bourse (the Stock Exchange School), film premieres, television programs and more).

Shareholders can choose whether to receive information and invitations by email or in printed form. Similarly, the schedule for meetings and events is available either via the website or by telephone at +33 (0)1 71 71 34 99. Vivendi strongly encourages its shareholders to keep themselves up-to-date via email and the internet.

There are a limited number of available places for most events. Vivendi reserves the right to determine the ways for allocating places for each event. An event may be cancelled at any time; no compensation may be claimed. Vivendi reserves the rights to modify at any time the forms of communication and the benefits offered to members of the Vivendi Shareholders Club.

Any member of the Vivendi Shareholders Club who does not meet the membership conditions of the Club, or who no longer wishes to be a member, must inform Vivendi as soon as possible by mail or by email.
